Ex-President Of Nation Arrested

20 Held In Slaying Of Panama Official

PANAMA (AP)—After a lightning roundup, police announced today that had arrested former President Arnulfo Arias in connection with the slaying last night of President Jose Antonio Remon, strong man of this strategic Central American republic for 10 turbulent years. Secret police officials said they had arrested more than 20 persons in pre-dawn raids aimed at catching the assassins who machine-gunned the 46-year-old Remon as he chatted with a party of friends at Juan Franco race track.

Two other persons died in the gun battle between the President's bodyguard and his assassins. Three of Remon's companions were wounded.

Police said they nabbed Arias, who was thrown out of office in 1951 by Remon's police forces after a bloody palace battle, at Boquette, 30 miles west of the capital. Arias has a large coffee plantation near there.

The new rates were made effective Jan. 1.

In the Salem exchange, the monthly rate for individual line residence service will be increased from $3.50 to $3.95, two-party line service from $3.00 to $3.35, four-party from $2.50 to $2.80, and rural residence service from $2.75 to $3.15.

No changes were made in the charges for extension telephones, private branch exchange equipment, mobile telephone service and other items.

The basic rates for day station-to-station long distance calls within Ohio were increased five cents for certain rate distances under 151 miles. In day person-to-person rates, the charges for some calls remain the same, while the increase on a majority of the others ranges from five to 15 cents.

The company-wide average increase in the basic rates for residence service is less than a cent a day, and for business service, under four cents a day, according to Carl F. Willman, Salem commercial manager.

Soviet Asks Return Of 11 Children

Freedom For 2 Yanks Held By Russians Appears Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials appeared confident today that Russia soon will keep its promise to release two long-missing Americans without insisting on the return of 11 Russian children now in the West.

Although the U.S. Embassy in Moscow hadn't been told when the Russians planned to release the Americans, officials recalled that in a similar case a year ago the Soviets waited several days.

The Americans are William T. Marchuk, 38-year-old AWOL soldier, of Brackenridge, Pa., and John Noble, 31, a Detroit civilian. They are believed to have been held behind the Iron Curtain longer than any other Americans.

Their cases and those of the Russian children were linked in a note delivered Friday to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. The Soviets promised to return the Americans and repeated a request for the return of the children, now living in West Germany and the United States.

In Moscow, an embassy spokesman emphasized that the note did not make release of the two Americans conditional on the return of the children.

It appeared certain the United States would reject Russia's request, on "humanitarian" grounds, for the return of the children.

The contents of the Soviet note—but not its text—were made public by the State Department late Saturday night.

Eight of the Russian children are in West Germany, living in foster homes or being cared for by welfare agencies. Three others, the children of a Russian Armenian who returned to the Soviet Union in 1947, are in the New York City area.

Boy, 17, Held In Slaying Of Sister Near Galion, O.

Strangled Girl's Nude Body Discovered In Thicket On Saturday

UCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old boy was held for questioning here today in the strangling death of his sister—youngeer by one year—whose nude body was found in a thicket north of Galion Saturday.

Crawford County Prosecutor John D. Sears Jr., says he is holding Frederick Spears of Galion in county jail.

The body of the youth's sister, Patricia, 16, was found about 125 feet from a road by two teenage hunters.

Girl Was Strangled

Dr. B. P. Mansfield, county coroner, said an autopsy showed the blue-eyed young high school sophomore was strangled both manually and probably with a cord shortly after she was reported missing Friday. He said she had not been sexually attacked.

Sears said Frederick told him he last saw his sister Friday morning before he left for work at a sewing machine agency.

The prosecutor said the youth was several hours late for work that day, but explained his absence by saying he had to go to Bucyrus for some equipment for his car.

IT'S 'MISTER 1955'—Salem's first baby of the New Year, William Foster Reed, is pictured asleep in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Paul Reed, RD 5, Salem, on New Year's Day. "Mister 1955" arrived suddenly at the Reed home at 2:40 a.m. Saturday before the family doctor, R. J. McConner, could get there and the father assisted in the delivery. The baby weighed in at eight pounds, four ounces and the physician said "everything's fine."

The couple has four other children, Melanie Ann, aged 6; Peggy Dianne, 4; Johnny Paul, 3½, and Sally Sue, 13 months. The father manages an orchard and is also a boat salesman.

Four other babies were born here on New Year's Day in local hospitals. At City Hospital a daughter was born at 10:45 a.m. to Mr. and Mrs. George Mulch of 526 Bank St., and a son at 11:54 a.m. to Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe of Sebring. Arriving at the Central Clinic at 10:33 a.m. was a son to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Beal of Deerfield and at 2:22 p.m. a son to Mr. and Mrs. George Eberly of Beloit.

8,008 Security Risks Dropped From U.S. Government Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration reported today the number of persons it has dropped from the federal payroll and classed as security risks has reached 8,008, of whom 2,996 had "subversive data" in their files.

Of the total, 3,002 were listed as fired outright and 5,006 as having resigned before final determination of their cases. The total represented about one third of one percent of the approximately 2,317,000 federal workers.

This new report on operations of its controversial security program was issued by the administration just two days before the convening of the new Democratic-controlled Congress, which promises to give the operation close scrutiny.

Many Democrats have challenged the figures, calling them a "hoax," and a "numbers game." Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), in line to head the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee in the new Congress, has said that group will conduct a full inquiry.

One of the quietest New Year holiday celebrations in recent years, from a police standpoint, occurred here over the weekend.

A few drivers "who might have had one too many" were escorted home, police said, but incidents were held to a minimum.

Mayor Dean B. Crammer reported that a single driver appeared before him over the weekend for driving while intoxicated. Ellwood G. Garwood, 30, of Lisbon, was fined $100 and costs, and sentenced to three days in jail on the charge.

Only one criminal act was reported to police who investigated an attempted break-in at the Salem Fixit System Shop, 296 S. Broadway. Police said someone made an unsuccessful attempt to force the rear door sometime over the weekend.

City traffic accidents were also few, police report. Only one occurred over the weekend while a second was reported this morning. Both were minor.

Cars operated by Hazel Cullenberger, 62, of 793 E. 5th St. and Marcia Gregg, 17, of RD 1, Salem collided on S. Broadway at 3:05 p.m. yesterday.

Carl R. Field, 33, of 168 Brooklyn Ave. told police his auto struck a parked car on E. 3rd St. at 7:15 a.m. today after an approaching auto forced him to swerve to avoid a collision.

Besides Garwood, only two other motorists appeared before Mayor Crammer to answer traffic violation charges.

Lawrence A. Steen, 46, of Caldwell, O., was fined $10 and costs for failure to observe the assured clear distance and Thomas Hopkins, 75, of Alliance paid $15 and costs for changing lanes without caution.

Stewart J. Campbell, 39, of Cleveland forfeited a $25 bond when he failed to appear on a speeding charge.

East Liverpool Man Dies As Car Hits Culvert

Single Autos Involved In 5 Of 6 Weekend Crashes; 4 Arrested

Six holiday traffic mishaps in the district accounted for one death and 12 injuries, state highway patrolmen reported this morning. Of the accidents investigated, five were one-vehicle mishaps. Four motorists were arrested.

Twenty-eight-year-old Clyde Adkins of East Liverpool was killed and a passenger in his car, Dora Griffin, 22, also of East Liverpool, seriously injured when the car operated by Adkins hit a culvert on the Smith Ferry - Calcutta Road, two and a half miles northwest of East Liverpool.

Driver Thrown From Car

Patrolmen said Adkins lost control of the auto, causing it to hit the obstacle at 5:50 a.m. Sunday. Thrown from the car, he was dead upon arrival at East Liverpool City Hospital. Cause of death was given as a fractured skull.

Miss Griffin, who sustained lacerations of the scalp, a concussion and a possible skull fracture, is reported in fair condition in the East Liverpool hospital.

Adkins' car was demolished in the collision. The body was taken to the Martin Funeral Home in East Liverpool.

Four persons were injured when a car driven by James Murphy, 21, of Leetonia, went out of control and overturned on Route 14, just east of Salem, at 8:50 a.m. Saturday.

A passenger in the car, which was severely damaged, Marjorie Comanisi, 15, of 464 Perry St. was brought to Salem City Hospital where she is reported in good condition. She sustained abrasions and a possible fracture of the right ankle.

Driver Is Cited

The driver of the vehicle, who was cited by patrolmen for driving without an operator's license, was treated for abrasions of the leg and released. Two other passengers, 19-year-old William Murphy of Leetonia and Sandra Weidenhoff, 15, of 510 Perry St., were treated for lacerations and contusions and released.

Four persons were taken to Alliance City Hospital for treatment following a mishap on Route 62, two miles east of Alliance, at 9:15 p.m. Saturday.

Patrolmen said a car driven by Chester Bissett, 47, of Sebring went out of control and hit a guard rail, causing minor damage to the vehicle.

Treated were the driver, lacerations of the head and ankle; his wife, Nellie, 44, contusions of the head; Patricia Bissett, 20, contusions of the head; and Sally Bissett, 9, lacerations of the left foot. Bissett was cited for driving left of center.

Officer to Return French Medal for Vote on Reich

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Kurt E. Wallach, German-born U. S. Army reserve major, says he is sending his World War II Croix de Guerre back to France as a personal protest against that country's approval of West German rearmament.

Wallach, 47, says he has sent the medal to the French Embassy in Washington. French approval of German rearmament will be "disastrous for the French," he declared.

The medal was awarded for returning some captured flags to the French government while he was with the 3rd Army in Europe, Wallach said.

He now is an accountant at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

May Try Atom Guided Missiles

Nevada Tests Planned For Mid-February

WASHINGTON (AP)—The intensifying emphasis on nuclear weapons for the battlefield may bring "live ammunition" tests of atomic warheads fitted to guided missiles during the approaching series of shots at the Nevada Proving Ground.

Although Atomic Energy Commission and military scientists have proof-fired the Army's 280-mm cannon with a nuclear shell there has been thus far no known trial of a nuclear guided missile or rocket.

Announcements by the military that several types of missiles and rockets are capable of carrying atomic warheads apparently have been based on tests of dummy warheads of shape and weight identical to nuclear charges—but without either the explosive charge or triggering mechanism of actual weapons.

Among the missiles and rockets which the Pentagon has designated as capable of mounting atomic warheads are the Army's Honest John bombardment rocket, the still developmental Redstone missile; the Navy's Regulus missile; and the Air Force's Matador missile. The Army has announced it is sending Honest John batteries to Europe and the Air Force already has several Matador missile outfits in Germany.

Any of these types are available for atomic firing tests during the Nevada tests, scheduled to begin in mid-February.

The increasing role of nuclear firepower is being reflected both in the decision to reduce American ground troops and in the reported constant revision of war planning for defense of Western Europe.

Slim Clue Is Found To Missing Vessel

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard had a slim clue today on the disappearance of the SS Southern Districts, which vanished with 24 men aboard during a trip from Louisiana to Maine.

The clue was a report from the SS Tullahoma that it found a life ring bearing the words "Southern Districts" floating near Sand Key off the southern tip of Florida.

The Coast Guard may decide to make another all-out search, but postponed any immediate decision. A plane which flew up and down the chain of islands late yesterday returned without sighting any further wreckage.

The converted LST-type vessel left Port Sulphur, La., Dec. 2 for Bucksport, Maine. It was reported missing Dec. 11.

No Security in Votes

It is puzzling to wonder why so many people think European security can be clinched by a positive vote in France's National Assembly. Last summer when the same National Assembly turned down the European Defense of the same ones — thought a negative vote was of no particular importance.

It was pointed out then that if EDC couldn't be ratified some substitute security plan would have to be devised. That happened. If the substitute had been turned down, there would have been another substitute.

Fickle as the French are, they are not foolish. They do not intend to throw away their place in the Western Alliance. But it was inevitable that when their status was tied up in a parliamentary maneuver with their willingness to rearm the Germans they would show indecision.

Critics charging them with being unrealistic are being unrealistic themselves, because the most realistic thing to Frenchmen is what happened to them in World War I and World War II.

Forty years ago, France was fighting for its life against Kaiser Wilhelm's war machine. Fourteen years ago, it was the prisoner of Hitler's war machine. To ask a Frenchman to believe his salvation lies in German rearmament is to ask him to forget a French generation's first-hand experience with German militarism.

It will take more than a roll call in the National Assembly to resolve French misgivings and implement a plan for widening Europe's margin of security against the threat of domination by the Soviet Union. It will take a generation of living together and learning to have confidence that never existed before and doesn't exist now.

Could Alben Barkley Be Obscure

The likelihood that Democrats in the U.S. Senate may put Alben W. Barkley first on their preference list for president pro tem of the upper house must amuse the old political war horse from Kentucky.

He led the fight against the proposal in 1947 to make the president pro tem of the Senate second in line of succession to the presidency when there is no vice president. The speaker of the House of Representatives is first in line, then the president pro tem, then the secretary of state.

The fight failed. One of the least known officials in the federal government was given a high place in the line of succession to the highest office in the nation. And now, as the result of his comeback in Kentucky politics after being brushed aside by the Democratic convention in 1952 as a presidential candidate or even a vice-presidential candidate, Barkley once more may be within a few heart beats of the presidency.

The Constitution provides that the Senate shall choose a president "pro tempore," one of the few officers so designated in fundamental law. Although the office has prestige, its power is wholly potential. When the vice presidency is vacant, the president pro tem becomes presiding officer of the Senate. But aside from that possibility and the remote possibility he might be reached in the line of succession, the holder of the office usually remains in an obscurity even darker than that which formerly surrounded vice presidents.

Minimum Turnover

Another detail of the 1954 congressional elections being brushed aside by persons trying to prove the Eisenhower administration failed to win a vote of confidence is this:

Except for 1952, when the results of the congressional election were distorted by reapportionment of seats in the House, the 1954 elections showed the smallest turnover of Representatives and Senators in a decade. There will be only 55 new faces in the House of Representatives, only 14 in the Senate. In 1948, there were 118 new representatives. The turnover in the Senate may be compared with an average of 17 in the preceding five elections.

Thus, instead of failing to win a vote of confidence, the Eisenhower administration and the Republican candidates for the House and Senate actually upset tradition by coming closer to holding the narrow majority they had won in 1952 than they were expected to come. That amounted to a vote of confidence.

It is a gross distortion of the statistical evidence to make it appear they were rebuked. The contrary is closer to the truth — that the minority party, which had clung tenaciously to its congressional seats during the Eisenhower landslide in 1952—was unable to make the gains it had expected to make in 1954.

If anybody was rebuked, it was the Democrats. It seems more sensible to conclude that voters were in a mood to retain the same party balance that had existed throughout the 83rd Congress; that they were voting for more of the same.

Armed Forces Cut

By JAMES FREE

Wilson's Announcement May Be Seen Premature

A check of usually reliable capital authorities shows considerable doubt that the plan to cut the nation's armed forces by 403,000 in the next year and a half can be carried through.

Several factors were mentioned as possible obstacles to the plan disclosed as welcome Christmas-time news by Secretary Wilson. The administration's "decision," Wilson said, was to trim military personnel from the present 3,218,000 to 2,815,000 by June 30, 1956—a shrinkage of 130,000 more than previously scheduled.

Most obvious of these factors is the prospect of a new international crisis not now expected. Events in Korea upset our demobilization program in 1950; Indochina forced temporary revision of military manpower estimates in 1953. It could happen again at those or other points of potential danger. The Communists cannot help but note that we are relying more and more on nuclear weapons to offset their superior manpower, the authorities here reason. If they are only half as smart as we suppose, from this view, they will try to foment trouble for us in areas where superweapons would be least effective.

ANOTHER FACTOR that readily could gum up the proposed course to smaller armed forces is what Congress may—and may not—do. Both White House and Pentagon glow with optimism—at top levels—about congressional passage of the new reserve program that is intended to make possible this cut, and further cuts, in the regular services.

But the rosy view is not shared in many lower echelons. A number there are plenty of less confident officials in reserve, national guard and veterans groups and the Congress as well.

These are, in the main, officials who have backed earlier, although more drastic forms of universal military training. For, however it is labeled, the new reserve program is a modified version of UMT. And UMT is still a controversial and politically hazardous affair in 1955 or any other year.

Wilson and associates, in the view of these authorities, seem not yet fully aware of the huge job of salesmanship that must be done. They are asking senators and representatives to vote for new laws compelling young men to serve in the reserves or national guard. The 83rd Congress ducked an implied Pentagon invitation to do something like this. The upcoming 84th Congress—with 1965 presidential elections on the horizon—could be reluctant, too.

ONE VITAL proposed addition to present military training programs is the provision for six month's active duty for a limited number, to be followed by nine and one-half years of part-time duty in reserve or guard status. This would have the sugar coating of being offered to 100,000 young men on a volunteer basis in the first year of the new program, but there would still remain legal compulsions for the service in the reserve.

This request for a six-month version of UMT represents a reversal of past Pentagon argument. All save freshmen members of Congress will be able to recall testimony of military experts who claimed that six months was too short a training period to prepare a recruit for the grim business of war. That was, of course, when the experts were advocating a two-year UMT.

Congress and the public can be expected to demand a full explanation of the value of the half-year training.

Indications now are that the new reserve plan has no better than a 50-50 chance of passing in its present form. Whatever the odds, political observers are wondering about the timing of the decision to accelerate the cut in military manpower.

DID WILSON toss away a crucial bargaining point by proclaiming the cut before getting any real assurance that Congress would approve the new reserve program? Have Wilson and the administration forgotten that the big sales argument for the reserve proposal these past months have been that only such a program would make possible smaller armed forces?

As it is, those who are lukewarm to any kind of UMT plan have been given ammunition. Now they can argue that if the regular forces can be cut without a better, more costly reserve program in hand, then the reserve program is not really so essential after all.

Wilson has mastered technical and executive aspects of Department of Defense leadership with ease. His memory for vital detail is amazing. It is almost as amazing as his continuing inability to realize the political importance of the nature and timing of his public words and actions.

Should Ike Purge GOP

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In a previous article I examined some of the contentions of the pro-Eisenhower but anti-Republican "liberals" in the light of the 1952 vote for the House of Representatives. That group, small in number but very articulate and well represented among the President's advisers, would by distorting election returns prevail upon the President to turn his face resolutely away from the conservative members of his party and embrace a compromise with a form of "liberalism" which, they say, would bring to his support many "liberal" Democrats.

Those people have assured us over and over that the Republican party is a hopeless minority, as was "proved" by the fact that in the election of 1952 Republican candidates for the House polled 239,271 fewer votes than their Democratic opponents. The fallacy of this is that in 1952 there were 93 districts in which there was no contest, and that 82 of those districts were Democratic. In the contested districts the Republican margin of superiority was 3,282,518.

ANOTHER POINT those people make is that Eisenhower was stronger than his party, since he received 56.4 per cent of the vote outside the South, while Republican House candidates received only 54.8 per cent.

This is likely to be true of any popular President. It has been almost invariably true in the past. The Republican party was indeed fortunate to have so popular a candidate. He helped many "liberal" as well as conservative Republican candidates.

The deduction should not be drawn from such assertions that Eisenhower can safely repudiate any wing or faction of his party. For the Democratic party is just as anxious to destroy him as any member of the Republican party. Democrats are, as they should be, in business to elect Democrats.

Within the week the Associated Press has released an analysis of the House vote in 1954. It is not a complete tabulation, but it will suffice for a few deductions.

The vote for Democratic candidates for the House over the nation was 2,185,327 greater than the vote for Republican candidates.

But the vote in eleven southern states for Democratic candidates was 3,006,083 while the vote for the Republican candidates was only 656,050. In the 35 remaining states the Republican majority was 164,686.

THE FIGURES on the contested and uncontested seats are not available, but it is probable that the proportion of uncontested districts was substantially the same as in 1952.

The assumption that the Democratic party is more than 2 million voters in excess of the Republican party is untenable because of the larger number of uncontested districts and also because there was apparently a very large Republican stay-at-home vote.

This must be true because surely there are more Republicans in the South than the average of 6,200 in the 106 districts in the eleven southern states. The average vote for both parties in the southern states was only 34,550, while in the other states it was 117,680.

THE PRESIDENT, who, it is asserted, could do very well without his party, made heroic efforts to get out the Republican vote. Despite all this, the Republicans of 1950 seemed to have more vitality than they had in 1954.

There is little in this record to justify the assertion of the "liberals" that Eisenhower can afford to repudiate any members of his party. He can well take as his motto the old political principle that the job of a leader is "to assimilate not eliminate."

Quarantine

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The word, quarantine, is used to cut off a person or a place from contact with others. Usually the function of quarantining lies with a government agency.

Sokolosky

When the management of some of these motion picture companies are asked why active anti-Communists worked until they testified and ceased to work after they testified, the answer usually is that they want too much money, which is an alibi.

For instance, Martin Berkeley, a writer, worked all the time and earned high pay when he was an active Communist. Then he went to the FBI and the congressional committees to tell all, providing a long list of names of his colleagues in the Communist movement. He has since been "quarantined," and only gets work under unusual and extraordinary circumstances.

PERHAPS THE Fund for the Republic will use its 15 million dollars to discover who boycotted Berkeley and how it was done. If they want to know why Charlie Chaplin's last picture grossed so little as to be a financial flop, they can find that out, too.

To be fair, they should study both cases and report on both. It would provide an interesting study of the operations of the Black List against Communists and against anti-Communists.

It may have been a slip of the pen, this use of the word, quarantine, but those who oppose the pressure for conformity in a free society, pressure from one side or another, must be shocked by it. Is there no longer to be free debate in this country?

The other day, I picked up a clipping from "The Miami Herald," in which the late Rabbi Stephen Wise's daughter, Judge Justice Wise Poller, paints former Sen. Burton K. Wheeler as an isolationist and anti-Semite of the Coughlin era. Those are tough words about a man who was always regarded as an outstanding liberal until he opposed some of Franklin D. Roosevelt's ideas and methods.

UNDOUBTEDLY, Sen. Wheeler disappointed some of his radical and liberal friends because he did not conform to their programs; he deviated and those who deviate must be purged — or shall we use the more polite word, quarantined?

Sen. Wheeler was opposed to our participation in World War I. I wonder whether a quarter of a century from now, most historians will not say that much that happened between 1939 and 1945 was, from an American standpoint, tragically unfortunate. At this time, the matter is still open for research and discussion.

To paint Wheeler as an anti-Semite because he did not believe that Western civilization would be saved by World War I is, in 1955, beyond reason. And it was so in 1954 when Mrs. Poller said it.

The unfair use of opprobrious terms is a divisive factor in our society which ought to be discouraged by throwing the spotlight of publicity upon it.

Let It Stay Lost

By TRUMAN TWILL

An appealing case is made by a writer in the current Reader's Digest for reviving the lost art of calling. But nothing is said about the reason the art was lost.

It got lost by popular demand. Before telephones laced the social world together in a web of instantaneous communication, you never knew when wolves would descend on the fold.

You never knew when it might be necessary to sweep the tidbits into a drawer on Sunday afternoon and get rid of the Old Maid deck because the lookout had spotted the Deacon and his wife coming up the front walk.

On holidays, the safest thing was to go away early and stay away late to thwart free-lancing relations who dropped in to call a half hour before mealtime.

Many a child quietly starved and drowned off in a torpor while gaby females and cowed husbands stayed on toward mealtime, while distraught mothers fidgeted helplessly and stifled the urge to rush, screaming, into the kitchen.

The sound of a clonky-clonk hoof-beat slowing to a klunk-klunk could send a housewife into a windmill fit of anxiety as she rushed to the window to see who might be stopping, gathering up house hold debris on the way.

Languid breadwinners wiggling tired toes in sock-footed ecstasy would struggle to get into their shoes and yell for a buttonhook at the sound of one of the early automobiles clattering to a stop.

Finally, everybody grew tired of performing the miracle of the loaves and fishes and vying with Job for the patience championship. Too many women had been dragged away to the looney bin. Too many men and purpled the zone with profane threats of genocide if their castles were stormed again by the Goths.

That was what happened to the art of calling. That was why it got lost. It was pushed off a cliff. Maybe the time has come to revive it. But don't bet on that. Some things about calling before the art was lost had better stay lost forever.

One was the propensity of long-winded callers for overstaying their welcome without being urged to stay at all.

Another was the obligation to feed callers at mealtime, and this has been only eased in slight degree by refrigerators, freezers and caches of canned goodies.

Still another was the inclination of callers to note when things were in a state of confusion and to mention this as evidence of a reckless housekeeper. They all did it, and they all resented it when they were the goats.

Naps were interrupted. Projects had to be set aside on short notice. Besides, the telephone had become so common there was no excuse for surprise visits.

By common consent, it became the practice to give notice before calling. And by common custom, it became the practice to wait for an invitation. Not that the art of calling shouldn't be revived; it should. But the lost art of unexpected and unannounced calling had better be left lost, or things will wind up where they were before—with the playing cards under the edge of the rug, the kids scuttling into the wild blue yonder, the lady of the house wondering why she failed in housekeeping and the old man struggling to keep his resentful eyes open.

Test For Comedians

"What program do you want?" we asked a friend who had dropped in to watch TV. We suggested a comedian who had nothing but talent.

"He gets only around $20,000 a night," our friend replied scornfully. "Try some real funny-man in the higher brackets."

We suggested George Gobel, adding, "He works without seriously affecting the world economic balances, but he is rather good, if you can consider any comedian good whose salary hasn't become front page news."

"Gobel is okay," said our friend. "He has ability, but that's all. Financially he doesn't even come close to the Aga Khan."

"Do you like Red Skelton?" we asked.

"He has a certain appeal, provided you can think of laughter in terms of nothing more than a king's ransom," he replied.

"I thought him rather amusing the other night, for an entertainer whose financial welfare for the rest of his life hadn't been guaranteed. The laughs tapered off toward the end of his show but that was due to the fact he can still estimate his income after taxes. This can seriously mar a comedian's confidence these days," we said. "Maybe Red Buttons is on."

"Dun & Bradstreet don't list him," our friend said with an air of finality. "How about Jimmy Durante?"

We explained that we used to like Jimmy until we suddenly realized his performance depended wholly on a sense of humor, good writers and great skill as a showman. "He hasn't figured in any problem over capital gains in a couple of weeks," we added in dismal tones.

"See if you can get Martin and Lewis," our friend suggested. "They won fourth place on the last U.S. Treasury poll."

"They're not on," we said. "How about Uncle Miltie?"

"I used to think Berle gave me all the laughs money could buy," said our friend. "It seems only yesterday when he was the only millionaire doing a slapstick comedy hour."

"That was away back," we said, "when you could go for a TV comedian who hasn't been guaranteed wealth beyond the dreams of avarice for appearing once a week over the next decade."

"Some of them worked without tax consultants," we admitted. "I wonder how they ever did it?"

"How about Gleason? Is he on?" our friend asked.

"Jockie Gleason, the J. Gleason Productions Corporation, the Affiliated Gleason Shows, Gleason Enterprises or International Gleason, Inc.?" we inquired.

"Are any of them on?" our friend asked.

"I'm not sure. I forgot to read the financial pages," we replied, "and I threw away the TV schedule."

"That's all right," our friend replied. "I can find him."

"How?" we asked.

"I'VE GOT A GEIGER COUNTER," he replied.

"A Geiger counter!" we exclaimed.

"Yeah. He gets paid in URANIUM!" said our friend.

Few things on TV have been funnier than a recent interlude when a master of ceremonies said, "In keeping with the spirit of the season, the commercial will be eliminated in order that our sponsor may deliver a special message," whereupon the sponsor let us have something like this: "Mr. T. Jefferson Botts, President of the Whizzbo Hair Tonic Corporation, which began producing Whizzbo products fifty years ago and has made Whizzbo a household word, desires to express the good wishes of the Whizzbo Hair Tonic Corporation, which has given America the satisfaction that only Whizzbo can assure to all people everywhere, etc., etc."

Princeton University has now gone TV in a big way, with a weekly network program. . . No complications are expected up to the point where it goes for color and the red and blue tones intrude.

program took effect on the former date.

The first official report was made last March, the second in October.

2,096 On Subversive List
Today's figure of 2,096 persons listed as having "subversive data" in their files compared with 383 so classified in the March report and 1,743 so described in October. The latter report covered figures as of last July 1.

In none of the three reports was there a breakdown to indicate how many of the "subversive data" cases were outright firings and how many were resignations while under investigation.

The 8,008 total of those who were fired and those who resigned while still under investigation compared with totals of 2,486 and 6,326, respectively, in the two earlier reports.

The figures were not strictly comparable because, unlike the previous reports, the one issued today did not include figures for the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

"It has not been deemed in the public interest to release statistics for the Central Intelligence Agency," the report said, "and figures pertaining to that agency are not included in this report."

many are the children of Russians held in Germany as slave laborers in World War I. A U.S. High Commission court in 1951 rejected a Soviet demand for their custody, ruling this would not be in their best interests.

The three in New York are the children of Hampton Zoon Chalchokian. Born in this country, they were turned over to New York authorities five years before their father returned to Russia, on the ground he was unable to care for them. The New York Supreme Court has ruled they should be allowed to remain in the United States.

The eldest of the three, George, 20, is now in the U.S. Marine Corps. The others, Albert, 18, and Alice, about 13, are in foster homes.

One of the two Americans, Noble has been held by the Russians since 1945. He and his family were trapped in Germany at the outbreak of World War II and he and his father Charles were seized by the Soviets in Dresden at the end of the war. The elder Noble, now employed in Detroit by General Motors Corp., was released in 1952.

Marchuk and another AWOL U.S. soldier, William A. Verdine, 28, of Starks, La., were picked up by the Russians in East Germany in 1949. The Russian note said Verdine's whereabouts were not known.

on Route 7, three miles south of Rogers, at 1:25 a.m. yesterday.

Patrolmen said a car driven by Coffman's brother, Norval, went out of control and hit a guard rail, demolishing the auto.

Norval Coffman, whose home is in Kentucky, told patrolmen at the scene of the accident that his brother had been driving. By the time patrolmen questioned Hurchel and determined the actual driver, Norval had fled to Kentucky.

Two persons were injured in the holiday weekend's only two-car collision in the area.

Fred Thomas, 57, of Masury, O. and his 65-year-old wife Olga were treated at Salem City Hospital and released following a mishap on Route 14, seven miles north of Salem, at 2:45 p.m. Sunday.

Patrolmen said a car operated by Jacob Furrier, 74, of RD 1, Salem, collided with the Thomas car. Furrier was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Thomas sustained contusions of the forehead, and his wife suffered contusions of the forehead, arms and legs.

Howard Claughes, 36, of Columbiana was charged with reckless operation after his car went out of control and ran into a ditch on the New Waterford Road, a mile east of Columbiana, at 7:28 p.m. Saturday.

In another Saturday accident, a car operated by Burton Kessler, 27, of Providence, R.I., ran off the road and hit a tree just east of Washingtonville. Patrolmen said Kessler was westbound on Route 14 when the accident occurred at 9:05 a.m.

2 Prisoners Praise Police Treatment

Two Columbiana County prisoners, confined in the Salem jail since Dec. 8, took time out after Christmas to commend city officials and members of the police department.

In a letter sent to the News, the two men, Charles Ferry and Earl Lacey, praised the treatment they had received, and stated, "It really makes us want to be better citizens."

Held at the Mahoning County jail in Youngstown before the eviction of Columbiana County prisoners on Dec. 7, the men stated they had "received the best treatment and friendship from the police force any two prisoners could ask for."

"Our Christmas meals were brought into us by friends—duck dinner and turkey supper with all the trimmings."

"We had no presents, delicacies or tree, but we did have the friendship of Mayor (Dean B.) Cranmer, Chief (George) Earley, Captain (Howard) Forney and regular police."

"Friendship is the best present in the world to us as it really makes us want to be better citizens."

The two men also praised Rev. Harold Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church, who they said visited them several times for prayer services.

Ferry is being held by county charge and Lacey is confined on orders of county juvenile authorities.

The men are two of the five Columbiana County prisoners held in Salem.

chief Indian delegate to the U.N. Assembly, and N. R. Pillai, secretary general of the Indian Foreign Ministry. There was no report on what was said.

Neither Nehru nor Krishna Menon had been at the airport to greet Hammarskjold on arrival.

And again only lower ranking Indian officials—none of ministerial rank—were on hand to see the party's takeoff for Canton.

This apparent coolness by India's leader to the U.N. mission underlined Nehru's sharp criticism in Calcutta Saturday of Hammarskjold's trip. The Prime Minister told newsmen there that the U.N. decision to send the secretary general to Peiping was "unfortunate" and was made in a one-sided manner.

He also said he had not asked the Chinese Communists to reconsider their imprisonment as spies of the American airmen and "I don't know whether or not they will."

Among those on hand to greet the U.N. diplomat on his arrival were Shen Chien, charge d'affaires at the Red Chinese Embassy here, and Russian, American and Scandinavian diplomats.

Before his meeting with Nehru today, Hammarskjold spent nearly an hour with President Rajendra Prasad and also visited the site of the cremation of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Keeping up its campaign charging the imprisoned Americans with being spies, a Peiping radio broadcast yesterday said John Thomas Downey, one of two American civilians convicted and imprisoned along with the 11 airmen, had confessed he had been shot down while on a mission to pick up a U.S. agent from China.

The United States contends that Downey was an Army civilian employee, had hopped a plane ride from Korea to Tokyo and was captured when the plane was shot down over North Korea.

The Peiping broadcast said Downey, who is from New Britain, Conn., and is a cousin of singer Morton Downey, had confessed the plane crossed into Chinese territory at midnight Nov. 29, 1952, and was shot down 15 minutes later. Downey also was quoted as saying that while in Japan previously, he was "in charge of the training" of a group of "spies who were later parachuted into China."

$150,000 Fire Destroys Cincinnati Restaurant

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fire destroyed the Copper Stallion, well known restaurant 18 miles east of Cincinnati, early today and owner Claude Jackson said the loss may reach $150,000.

William Spivey, 32, a fireman from Amelia, suffered an injured hip when a hose nozzle broke and knocked him from the top of a truck.

Firemen from three nearby communities fought the blaze which first was noticed by motorists.

Following custom, Jackson had planned to close the establishment through January and February and to reopen in March. He said the building would be rebuilt.

U.S. Carrier Damaged In Crash With Freighter

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The aircraft carrier Monterey, its hull split 20 inches above the water line in a collision with a merchant ship, prepared to proceed today to Mobile, Ala.

No injuries were reported from the Monterey's collision with the British freighter Hartismere yesterday in the fog-shrouded Mississippi River.

The 14,500-ton Monterey was here for the Navy-Mississippi football game in the Sugar Bowl Saturday.

The Navy had no information on damage to the Hartismere.

Pope Criticizes Recent Europe Arms Treaties

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII today criticized recent accords—presumably the rival military pacts reached at Paris and Moscow—as having no basis for "more extensive European unification."

He called for construction of "a bridge of peace" between East and West.

These words were contained in the pontiff's delayed Christmas message to the world, in which he urged the divided world camps to seek peaceful coexistence.

The message of the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was one of his longest and most important recently made.

The Pope made apparent reference to the Paris accords for bringing a rearmored West Germany into NATO and the countering Moscow conference project for a unified Communist command in Europe, including East German troops. He said:

"Recent accords which have opened the way to a cold peace no longer have for a basis the ideal of a more extensive European unification. Many, in fact, believe that the governing policy is for a return to a kind of nationalistic state, closed within itself, centralizing herein its forces, unsettled in its choice of alliances and, consequently, no less perilous than that which had its time of highest development during the last century."

"Too soon," the Pope warned, "have been forgotten the enormous mass of lives sacrificed and goods exorted by this type of state, and the crushing economic and spiritual burdens imposed by it."

Miller To Head State Reclamation Division

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today appointed Dwight P. Miller of Columbus to head the State Division of Reclamation that has charge of enforcing strip mining controls.

Miller, a native of Rushville in Fairfield County, filled the vacancy created when his chief, Zoyd M. Flaler, moved up from chief of the division to state director of public works.

Miller was agriculture extension agent in Harrison County for five years. In 1945, he joined the Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University. He served at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station before joining the division of reclamation.

His appointment runs until January, 1961.

Girl Marksman Kills Father With Rifle

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl admitted to police that she killed her father in their home last night after an argument over a boy friend.

Officers said Linda Lee Lantis, winner of a marksmanship medal, told them she shot her father in the back of the head with a .22-caliber rifle. It was the same rifle the junior high school girl had used in winning the marksmanship medal.

Linda said her father, Lawrence R. Lantis, 46, had objected earlier in the day to the boy friend calling her on the telephone.

Asst. County Atty. Myron Lindstrom said a murder charge would be filed in Juvenile Court.

FOREIGN-BORN ATTEND CLASSES — Students in the English classes for foreign-born, sponsored by the Salem District Council of Church Women work at a class meeting.

By LOIS FIRESTONE

The classroom is attentively quiet as the teacher holds up for identification the picture of an object pasted on a sheet of paper.

It is a typical schoolroom scene where pupils are drilled in vocabulary, spelling and basic speech fundamentals. However, here there is one major difference — the students are foreign-born adults seeking to become acquainted with the English language.

Divided into three classes, the group, sponsored by the Salem District Council of Churchwomen, meets two nights a week in the Presbyterian Church for instruction. Some 40 students are enrolled in the beginner's, second grade and pre-naturalization groups.

The students represent countries from all over Europe — including Poland, Romania, Germany, Russia, Hungary, Spain and France.

"My prime object is to teach some conversation with a little stress on vocabulary," begins teacher Mrs. Harold Tolson says.

"Many of the students can speak three or four different languages but can neither write nor read even their own native language."

"THIS LACK of early training makes it difficult to learn to write and read English, for they must somehow endeavor to sort out in their minds just how their native word appears in print in order to connect it with its English equivalent."

In her drills, Mrs. Tolson passes around sheets of paper affixed with pictures of commonly seen objects. As these are passed from student to student, they ask each other,

Ate too much?
well, where's your roll of TUMS?

When Acid Indigestion Strikes, a handy roll of Tums in pocket or purse can be "worth its weight in gold." For Tums give top-speed relief from gas, heartburn, sour stomach—yet can't over-alkalize, can't cause acid rebound. Tums require no water, no mixing—take them anywhere. Get a roll today.

"What is this?" and then supply the answers.

Difficult to comprehend are the different uses of the articles, "a," "an," and "the." Many of them will say this is "an eyes." Another word combination which is confusing is when or when not to say "this is" or "is this." For example, in the sentence "Is this a chair? No, this is a stove." connotation sets in for the varied word usages are difficult to connect.

A TEXTBOOK called "Beginning English for the Foreign Born" is used by the class and helps explain to them such phenomena as why the "a" in "eat" or the "u" in "buy" are not pronounced in English.

Mrs. Jesse Potorf's second graders attempt to improve spelling and to broaden their vocabulary. They are more advanced than the beginners and most have passed the beginning class requirements.

The pre-naturalization classes are for those who are seeking U. S. citizenship. With their instructor, Jesse Potorf, they analyze and review questions which will be on naturalization tests.

Typical of the students attending the classes are the three members of the John Olijnyk family. Natives of Pawshiwka in the Ukraine, U.S.S.R., the family was evacuated to Germany in 1944. Prior to their internment, Olijnyk was the manager of a cooperative.

In the process of moving from one labor camp to another during the war, the family lost a daughter.

AFTER THE WAR, the family received a visa to enter the United States and first settled in English-town, N.J. After a move to Mahwah, N.J. they came to Salem four years ago and took up residence on Euclid Ave.

Now, Olijnyk, an employee at the Eljer Co., his wife and 19-year-old daughter, Micheline, study two nights a week in the beginner's class.

A new facet of the council's offerings are the American history classes which will convene each Thursday. Chronologically covering the country's early history, the lecture periods are given by Sgt. Leroy Smith of the Youngstown reserve unit.

The classes were dropped two years ago until the churchwomen's council took over the sponsorship in 1953.

Enrollment in the classes is not limited to foreign born. Anyone interested is welcome to walk up to the second floor of the Presbyterian Church and enter the classes which open at 7:30 on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

CLUB TO TAKE PICTURES
Members of the Salem Camera Club have accepted an invitation to take pictures of the Christmas lighting at the Fred Puttkamer residence, Tuesday at 8 p.m. Club members also took pictures of the lighting at Nela Park in Cleveland.

If you live on a windy corner, the coat that just wraps around, no matter how lovely, is not for you. You'll need a hand for your purse and maybe the other for a package. You can't cope with a flapping coat in a cold wind.

Remember And Go On

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Reflections of a Pavement Plato:

"Remember and go on!" That is the average man's task as 1955 begins. It is the only way he can honor the past and embrace the future, too.

The beginning of a new year is always a doubtful thing. It is a fledgling time for both young and old. Little lovers and big businesses make huge decisions that mean a gamble on the days ahead.

It is a fine period for self-pity, this month when time and the stars and the calendar turn on a wheel of pitiless change.

That characteristic flower of mankind, good will, the late-blooming perennial, withers in the deepening winds of winter. Frost seizes the hilltops, mist the valleys.

Santa Claus has gone back where he came from. The children resume school and teacher.

And a man goes back to his job. He has to. Hunger is the maw that draws us all. He has to. He looks through a window to the iron thorn on a tree, the frozen nest in the crotch where the bough bends. He has to go back to his job.

The holiday is over. He's back in school, too. So is his wife. She's right back on the job, even though the holiday really never was quite a holiday for her.

But since a man can usually only feel truly sorry for one person at a time he prefers to feel sorry for himself right now. February is a good month to feel sorry for his wife. It only has 28 days.

The backlash of too much celebration whips back upon a man often now, and drowns his mind in guilt. His self-accusation for some sins imagined and others half-performed leads him to feel there is no real justice in the world, because, if there was, he would be in jail where he rightfully belongs, sharing a cell with all the other trash and human rubble of the world, including hit-and-run drivers.

Another point was made by a fellow who looked at the calendar and said:

"Why does the first day a guy has to go back to work in a new year have to be a Monday? Monday should always be a separate problem. It's enough by itself."

For those suffering from hang-over remorse and New Year exhaustion, complicated by the Monday blues, we offer a prescription. Read the following three times, chasing each time with a deep glass of water, and seasoning with aspirin if desired:

"The torment is the same in country and in city. There is an escape. Help is in the heaven of your heart."

"Anyway, it isn't as bad as you think. You cannot scar the sky by anything you do on earth. You cannot wound a thing above you, and you can always bend and repair all else."

"The depth of your regret mirrors the height of your dreams. Remember, in a sunken today, that yesterday rode higher, and tomorrow will surge again. The reach for victory, like the beat of a heart, must pulse and pause ... and pulse again."

"Heaven does lie within your own heart. This year you will explore it."

"The world of 1955 lies terrible in vigor and lovely in hope before you."

Have a happy Tuesday!

Dividing Wall Gives Each Child 'Kingdom'

Every child needs some privacy, preferably a certain part of the home he can call his own.

A simple boundary marker in the form of a movable half-height dividing wall is widely used today to establish definite "kingdoms" for each child, especially where two or more are using the same sleeping and play room.

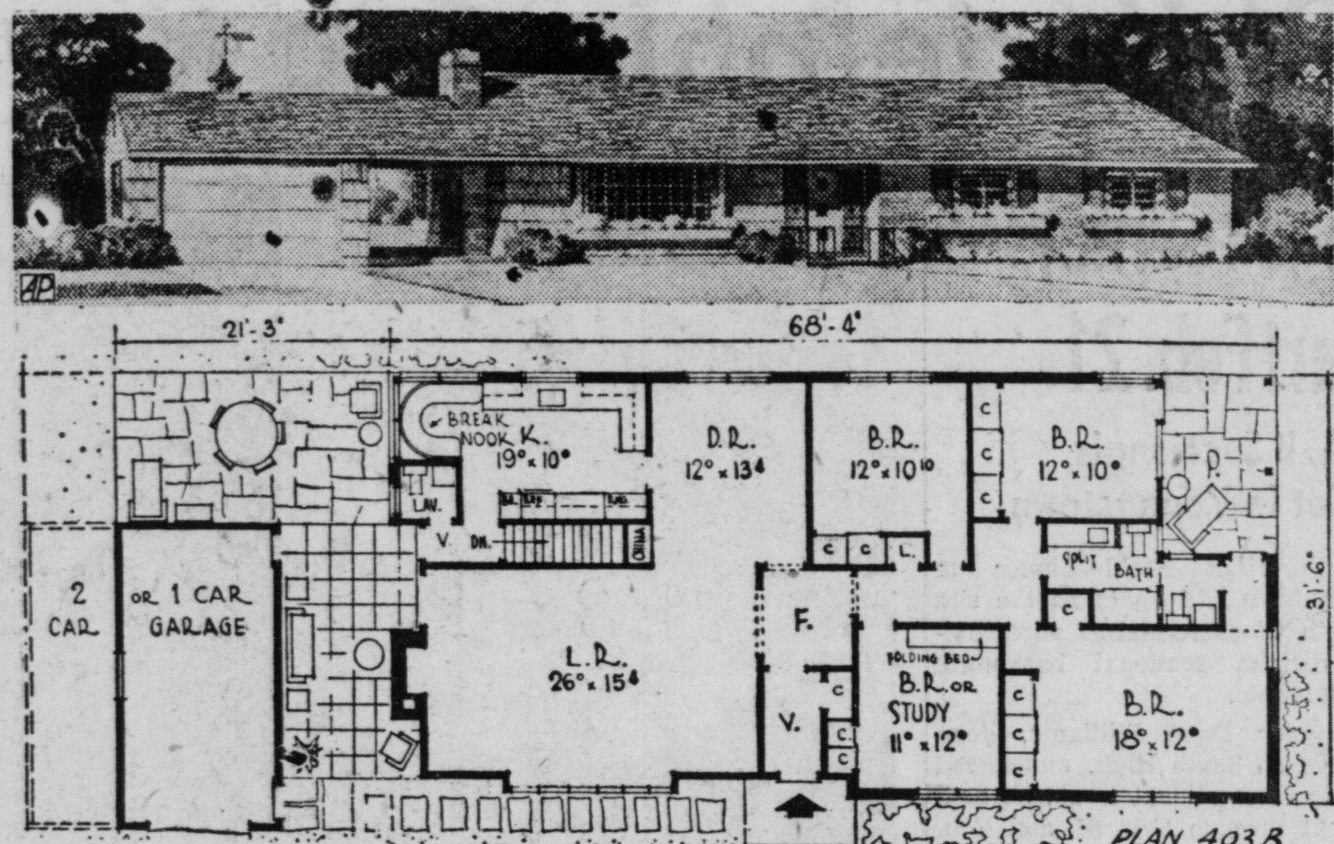

The dividing wall can be relatively inexpensive, and can be made to serve several purposes.

Some are built to provide storage shelves for books, toys, games and other child stuff. Half of the storage wall faces one side and the other half serves the child on the opposite side. The top of the wall is wide enough to hold goldfish bowls, bookends and other possessions.

Generally, the movable section is painted in some light, bright color to help liven up the children's room.

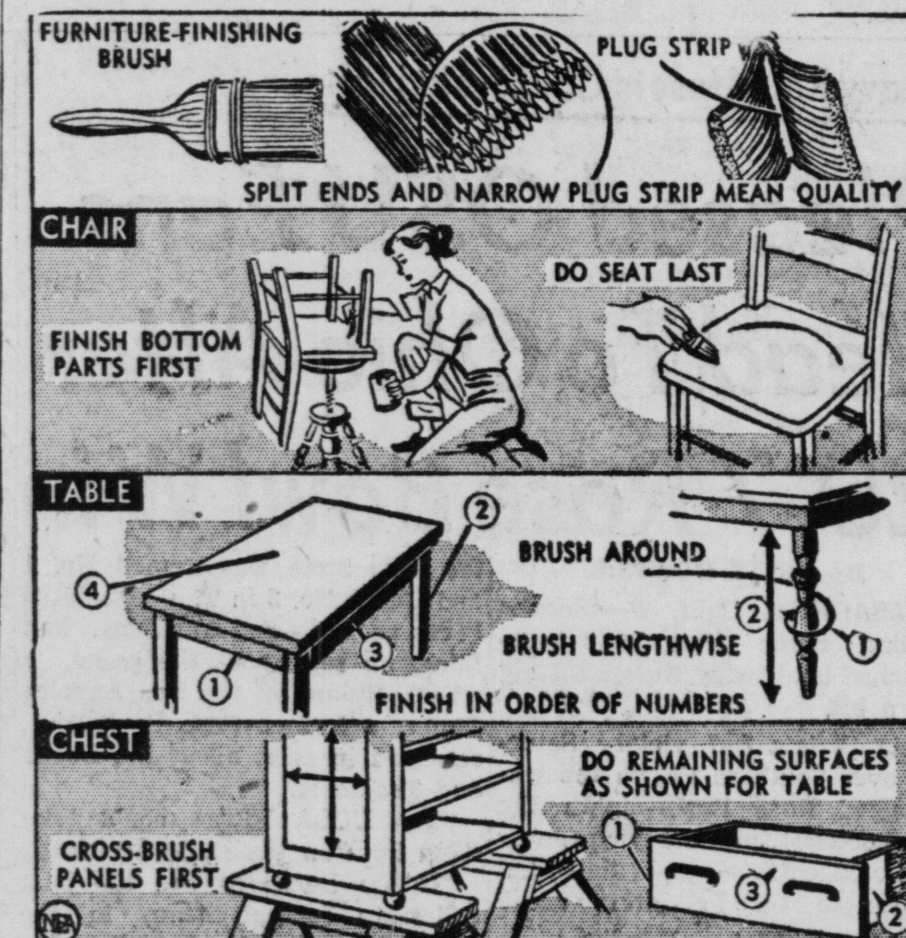

These dividing walls are easy to build. Actually, they aren't any more complicated than a well-built bookcase. A solid back should be placed behind the shelves so that each child has a section facing his part of the room which is his very own.

Parents will find that these dividers solve a lot of problems, reduce quarreling to a minimum, and give a child a chance to develop his own personality. Where the home is small and there is only one bedroom for the children, this divider will help out the budget.

BIG, LOW AND WIDE, this house has four bedrooms all on the main floor. A spacious breezeway connects the house with garage, which can be built for one or two cars. Planned for a broad lot, the house has an over-all width of more than 68 feet without breezeway and garage. The house proper covers 1,919 square feet. This is plan 403B by Rudolph A. Matern, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y. A large basement is included.

Brush-On Finishing Can Be Better Than Spray on Furniture

If you have always thought of sprayed-on furniture finishes as superior to the brushed-on variety, then you have never known a really high-quality brush, or what one of them will do.

While a good brush costs a lot of money, as compared to a cheap one, it's worth the investment. Wielded properly, and cared for as it should be, a good brush can outperform a spray gun.

The most popular brush for furniture finishing, whether the finish is shellac, varnish or enamel (lacquer), is two to two and a half inches wide. It has a chisel, or beveled edge and medium-length, soft bristles.

You can recognize a good brush by several characteristics. Hold it up to a light and look for split ends of bristles. If it has them, that's good, because it means the brush will hold more material and spread it smoother. It also means the bristles weren't trimmed short, a characteristic of cheap brushes.

Spread the bristles and look at the wooden strip that separates bristles on one side of the brush from those on the other. If the strip is narrow, that's good, because it means the brush has more bristles. Good brushes also have fine flexible bristles.

Enough said of brushes. Now for a brief description of furniture-finishing technique.

Do-It-Yourself Lighting Units Brighten Walls

Concealed fluorescent tubes afford a form of diffused lighting that's growing mighty popular with homemakers. For accent lighting, additional room illumination and for close-up lighting of working areas, they're hard to beat.

Since anything that strikes Maw's fancy tends to have a direct effect on Paw (he may be called upon to "make me one of those"), and his pride won't let him say "I can't," he'd best be prepared.

Preparation is partly anticipation, so let's consider the things that the ladies are most likely to want lighted.

Draperies are one, because there is a popular trend to accent them with light. The kitchen sink and counter top area, the range, the headboard of a bed (for reading light) are others.

In all of these cases the fluorescent installations are quite similar. The fixture is mounted behind a simple-to-make, box-like shield hung on the wall. The shield directs the light downward.

Fluorescent fixtures can be bought with built-in shields, but this type is more expensive than the kind furnished without shields. Also, their design does not suit every preference. Assuming that you wish to build your own, save money, and get exactly the design you want, here's how:

First of all, select a fluorescent tube of the length desired. They come in 15, 20, 25 and 40-watt sizes, which are 18, 24, 33 and 48 inches long, respectively. Then nail or screw a 1x2-inch wooden strip to the wall for support of the shield and fixture. The strip should be slightly longer than the metal channel of the fixture.

Next remove the back of the channel from the unit and fasten it to the wooden strip with screws.

Decide how deep you want the face board of the shield to be. Use of 1x6, 1x8, 1x10, or 1x12 shelving lumber is suggested. You might cut a design in the lower edge of the face board, trim it with thin strips of molding, cover it with wallpaper to match the walls, or leave it plain.

At any rate the face board must be cut to length first. Cut it 1/4 inches longer than the 1x2 strip previously fastened to the wall. Cut two six-inch-long side pieces from the same material and join them to the ends of the face board. The corners may be mitered at 45 degrees or butt joined.

Next screw angle irons to the inside of the side pieces. The bend in the angle irons should be even with the top of the shielding board, and the irons attached so they rest on top of the 1x2 strip when the shield is in position on the wall. The free leg of each angle iron then is screwed to the strip, the cord of the fixture is plugged into a wall outlet, and that's it.

In this type of installation the shield is open at top and bottom, so that light is directed upward as well as downward. If desirable, the top of the shield may be covered with a sheet of frosted glass, which serves as a shelf, or it may be closed off entirely with shelving lumber.

Coat the inside of the shield with flat white paint.

Storm Windows Cut Fuel Bills 30%

Not only do storm windows help reduce fuel bills but they make homes more comfortable, draft free and healthier places in which to live, according to Gordon Orbeson, heating and air conditioning specialist of Libbey-Owens - Ford Glass Company.

Orbeson said storm windows help reduce fuel bills by as much as 25 to 30 per cent and enlarge the "living" area of rooms by eliminating the chilly zones around single-glazed windows. But to be really effective they must fit the window casing snugly.

It is the pocket of air between the storm sash and the inner window which provides the insulation, according to the heating specialist.

Q — Should chemical pipe cleaners be used to clean out septic-tank pipe lines?

A — No. Chemical cleaners destroy the bacteria that "digests" waste in the tank.

Q — Is there a vapor barrier that can be installed on the walls of existing homes? Our exterior paint is blistering and they say the trouble is moisture condensation within the walls.

A — Oil paint is considered to have value as a vapor barrier. Two coats of interior oil paint might well solve the problems.

Quakers Will Face New Philadelphia And Ravenna This Week

Neither Foe Rated 'Tough'

33 District Cage Games Scheduled

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

After two weeks which saw only limited action, district basketball gets back in the swing of things this week with the largest card of the season scheduled. A total of 33 scholastic cage contests will be played in the district this week, with 15 of those carded for Friday night.

Coach John Cabas' Salem Quakers will put their undefeated record on the line twice this week. Friday night the New Philadelphia roundballers will put in their first appearance on a Salem basketball schedule and Saturday the Ravens will invade the SHS gym.

THE HIGH-SCORING Quakers should come up with two more wins, as neither New Philly nor Ravenna is rated as a tough opponent.

Members of the Salem High School Varsity S Club, an organization for letter-winners in SHS sports, are selling "Love Those Quakers" buttons.

The buttons can be purchased from any Varsity S Club member for 50 cents. Money realized from the sale of the buttons will be used to purchase trophies for Mickey McGuire League basketball winners and to add sports books to the Salem High School library.

Varsity S President William Lipp said the club would request all down town merchants and Salem basketball fans to wear the badges on game days. Quaker basketball Coach John Cabas, Varsity S Club advisor, added that the buttons would be a symbol of loyalty to the Quakers.

Other club officers are Bob McArtor, vice president and John Todd, secretary-treasurer.

ponent for the locals. The New Philadelphia Quakers have a season record of two wins and three losses. The New Philly quintet will play Wellsville Tuesday before coming here Friday.

The Ravens have won five contests, the same number as the locals, but have also lost four games. Although taller than the Quakers the Ravens are reported to be weak in rebound strength.

The Quakers will be in top shape for the weekend's tilts. They practiced every day last week in the SHS gym, usually most of each morning. With school starting again this week they'll return to their regular practice schedule.

Last Thursday night the squad journeyed to Canton to watch the McKinley Bulldogs, supposedly one of the best teams in the state this season, battle the Farrell, Pa., cagers. Farrell, defending Pennsylvania State champs, trounced the Canton aggregation 60-46. The McKinley cagers defeated the locals in a scrimmage session just after practice sessions began in November.

MOST OF the district's Class B schools return to action tomorrow night. The Columbiana Clippers, after finally winning their second game of the season last week, will try for their third win against six losses when they go to East Palestine.

The Goshen Union Gophers will try for their first win of the year against seven straight defeats, meeting InterCounty rival Jackson Milton.

Lisbon will be looking for win number six against one setback as they entertain the Sebring Trojans, who have a 3-1 record.

Both teams will be looking for their sixth win of the season when the Fairfield Twp. cagers go to Berlin Center. Fairfield was only one loss and Berlin Center two.

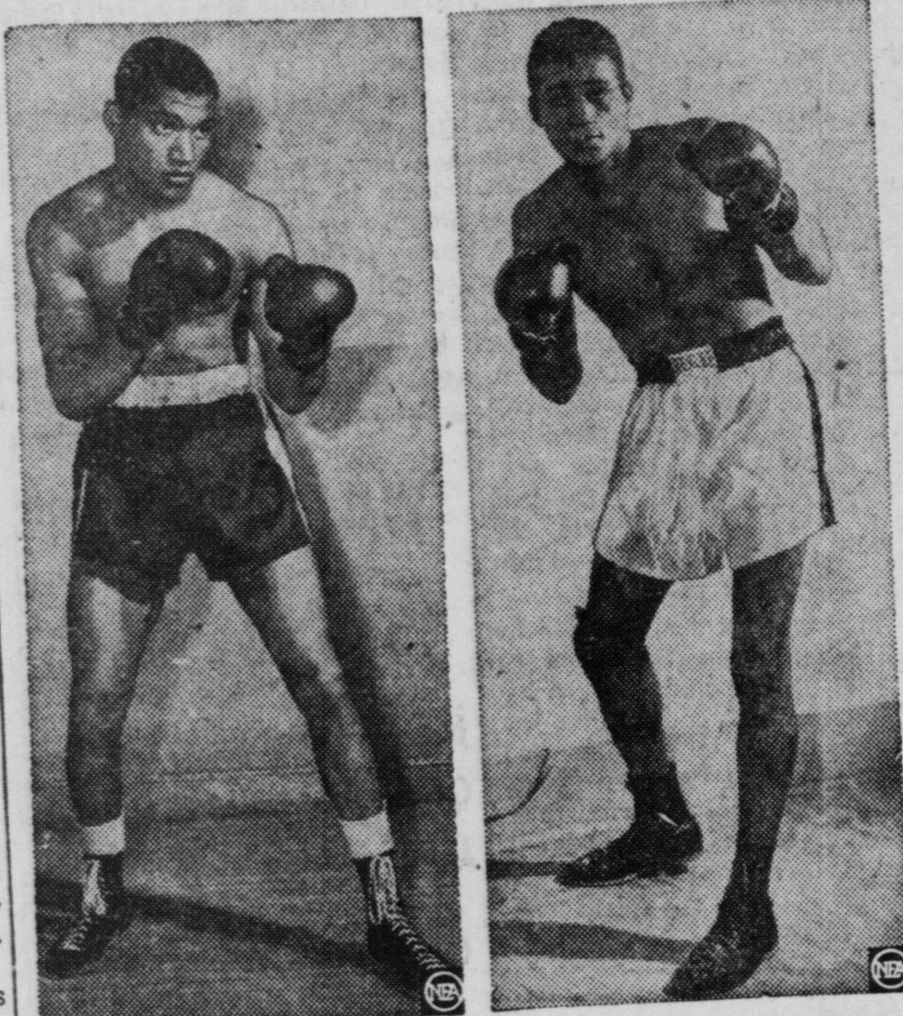

Leetonia will try to get back in the winning column in a Tri-County battle with Louisville. The Bears have a 2-3 record.

Friday night Class A teams return to action with the B teams switching around in a total of 15 scheduled games.

Argument Whether UCLA Or OSU Is Top Team Goes On

By The Associated Press

The argument over whether Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes rated the national football championship over undefeated UCLA is about the only issue the Jan. 1 bowl games failed to decide.

None of the major postseason gridiron classics produced a real surprise even though Navy, which beat Mississippi 21-0 in the Sugar Bowl, relinquished the favorite's role after injuries and illness sidelined several first-string players.

Supporters of the Uclans, who finished a close second to the Buckeyes in the final Associated Press Poll, hoped Southern California would rise up and down Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. But the Big Ten champions went out to prove that they rated the No. 1 spot. True they defeated USC by only 20-7 compared to UCLA's 34-0 romp during the regular season, but rain during Saturday's game was not conducive to high scoring.

No Scrap Seen Over Grid TV In NCAA Talks

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK—In spite of rumors and thinly veiled hints of a wild scrap over football television, some 1,400 representatives of more than 40 colleges and universities opened their week-long series of meetings today with every indication of a quiet session.

If there's any warfare during the five days when the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and five allied bodies are scheduled to meet, it likely will be under a placid surface.

Indications are that no settlement of the hot television debate will be reached this week.

The Big Ten conference, leading opposition to the present national game - a week program, has dropped a few dire threats as to what may happen if its plan of national-regional control of TV isn't adopted. But a source close to the conference leaders said the Big Ten won't make an open fight at the convention.

"We definitely will avoid any ultimatum," he said. "The showdown, if any, will come when the new committee shows its hand."

Five TV proposals will be presented and discussed at a round-table meeting Thursday. These range from a re-adoption of the 1954 plan to unrestricted football television. A preferential straw ballot will be taken for the guidance of the incoming committee, but there won't be any directive. The convention will be asked to vote only on a resolution which calls for careful study of all proposals.

In addition to the NCAA, the American Football Coaches Assn., the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches, the American College Public Relations Assn. (sports division), the College Athletic Business Managers Assn. and the National Collegiate Track Coaches Assn. scheduled meetings during the week.

Cage Tournaments Start Feb. 21

A, B Sectionals Set In Youngstown

South High Field House in Youngstown will again be the site of both Class A and B northeastern district sectional basketball tournaments.

Manager Dave Williams, dean of boys at South High, announced that the A sectional would be held Feb. 21 through Feb. 26, and Feb. 28 through Mar. 5. There will be 24 teams entered in the tourney, including Salem, with two squads advancing to the district meet at Kent.

Previously three teams represented this area at the Kent eliminations but the increase in contestants in the eastern sector, along the Ohio River, gives that section two instead of one entry in the district tourney. The site of the regionals depends on the district survivors.

The Class B sectionals will be sandwiched in with the A teams. There will be 12 "B" outfits in the eliminations. Three Class B teams will go to the Kent competition.

Other teams besides Salem in the northeastern district A sectional include: Brookfield, Campbell, Canfield, East Palestine, Girard, Hubbard, Lisbon, Newton Falls, Niles, Poland, Sebring, Struthers, Warren, Howland, Boardman, Austintown Fitch and seven Youngstown schools - Chanev, Rayen, North, South, East, Ursuline, and Woodrow Wilson.

8 Big 10 Teams Back In Action

CHICAGO—What has all the makings of a topsy-turvy Big Ten basketball race picks up steam tonight with eight teams, including Indiana's reeling Hoosiers, matched up in four games.

Indiana's defending champions are on a four-game losing streak and have only two victories in five pre-conference games this season. The Hoosiers take on a sophomore-studded Michigan team which twice has scored more than 10 points in piling up five victories in seven games.

The conference race got off to a surprising start with Wisconsin upsetting Illinois 79-64 Saturday night. It was Wisconsin's third victory at Huff Gym in 24 years and the Badgers canned 41 free throws in the process.

Wisconsin is now in position to move far ahead of the field. The Badgers take on Iowa tonight at Madison. The Hawkeyes (7-1) were pre-season favorites to dethrone Indiana.

Minnesota and Northwestern, a couple of dangerous clubs which presently figure very much in the title race, tangle at Evanston.

Northwestern has won five and lost two while Minnesota has three losses in eight games. One of the setbacks was a one-point decision to North Carolina State for the North Carolina State tournament.

Michigan State and Ohio State round out the conference program at Columbus. The high-scoring Buckeye team, led by Robin Freeman, has lost twice in seven games, both defeats at the hands of California.

Purdue, which doesn't get into conference action until Saturday, travels to Bradley. The Boiler-makers have compiled a neat 6-1 record and loom as dark horses in the race.

Grid Stars Work Out For 6th Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala.—Football stars fresh from major bowl and all star appearances begin workouts today for the Senior Bowl game.

Forty of the 48 men who will turn pro in the sixth annual classic Saturday saw bowl or other game action.

As a result, North and South coaches said they don't expect getting the players in condition for the weekend contest will be much of a problem.

Ohio State back Dave Leggett, end Dean Dugger and center Bob Thornton were among early arrivals, along with Southern California's back Lndon Crow. These Rose Bowl foes will be North teammates.

Winners in the gamewill receive $500 and expenses, the loser $400 and expenses.

Heavy Rain Upsets California Hosts

Pleased OSU Fans Head To Ohio After 20-7 Rose Bowl Win

By FRITZ HOWELL

PASADENA, Calif.—Ohioans heading home from this sun-drenched land today were strutting just a bit.

Ohio State's 20-7 victory Saturday over Southern Cal in the waterlogged Rose Bowl—eighth Big Ten conquest in nine years over the Coast entry—gave the Midwesterners their latest chest-thumping excuse.

The Buckeye backers also had the last laugh on Californians who brag about the Coast climate.

Among the Pasadena folk there was more moaning over the poor weather Saturday than over Southern Cal's loss. Rain fell on the Tournament of Roses parade in the morning and all through the Rose Bowl game in the afternoon.

Only 89,000 of the 102,000 ticket holders showed up for the contest, and some 5,000 cars were hopelessly mired in the stadium parking lots. Hundreds, after driving to the bowl, stayed in their cars and listened to radio accounts of the game.

The muddy going made it a sloppy game in every way. Players were not identifiable a minute after getting on the field, and Southern Cal fumbled the slippery ball seven times, losing it three times. The Bucks scored after two of the recoveries.

Ohio showed definite superiority, piling up 21 first downs to 6 for the Trojans, the Coast team getting only one in the last half. The Bucks gained 295 yards rushing to 177 for Southern Cal. Sophomore Jon Arnett getting 123 for the Coast club in 9 attempts, and All-American Hopalong Cassidy moving 92 in 21 tries to pace the victors.

Coach Woody Hayes of the Bucks didn't endear himself to the Coast fans with an after-game statement in which he rated Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State of the Big 10 ahead of Southern Cal. The Trojans finished second in the Coast conference, losing only to UCLA in the league. The Uclans, in the bowl last year, were ineligible this time.

Woody also took exception to the Ohio State and Southern Cal bands using the soggy gridiron for maneuvers. He said they made a quagmire of the field.

A lot of the Coast writers, noting the Ohio State was named No. 1 and UCLA No. 2 in The Associated Press season-end rankings, had things to say about the game.

Dick Hyland of the Los Angeles Times, a former Rose Bowl hero, observed in print about the Bucks and Trojans:

"The UCLA Bruins could take them both on the same afternoon. If the Buckeyes are the best collegiate football team in the country . . . then the United States Marine Corps is a bunch of sissies."

UCLA defeated the Trojans 34-0. Ohio did it 20-7 under far different conditions.

Ohio's married players and their wives headed home yesterday morning. The rest of the squad went back today.

The California sun, just a day late for the big show, was out in full force yesterday.

3 Undefeated Ohio Colleges Are Beaten

COLUMBUS, Ohio—With the holiday tournaments out of the way—and three undefeated records down the drain—Ohio college quintets get back to the business of league play this week.

Ohio State, in a Big Ten game, is host to Michigan State here tonight. Two Mid-American Conference games are scheduled tomorrow—Toledo at Kent State and Bowling Green at Western Reserve.

Among the undefeateds to fall last week was Dayton, rated fifth in the nation in last week's Associated Press poll. Duquesne downed the Flyers, 90-75, and UCLA defeated them, 104-92, in two Holiday Festival games at Madison Square Garden.

Akron held on to an unbeaten record at 8-0 while spoiling the records of Wooster (5-1) and Capital (4-1) in the Akron tournament.

Only other Ohio college team keeping its loss column unscarred was Ohio Northern (4-0).

In addition to the Ohio State game, two others are on tap tonight involving Ohio teams. John Carroll goes to Valparaiso, and Wittenberg meets Baldwin-Wallace.

10 Undefeated Teams Fell During Past Week

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The extracurricular holiday tournaments out of the way, college basketball gets down to the serious business of conference races this week.

For most of the schools, the 30-odd tournaments that dotted the nation for the past two weeks served merely as warmups. They are interested more in league titles and the resultant bids to the NCAA and National Invitation events in March.

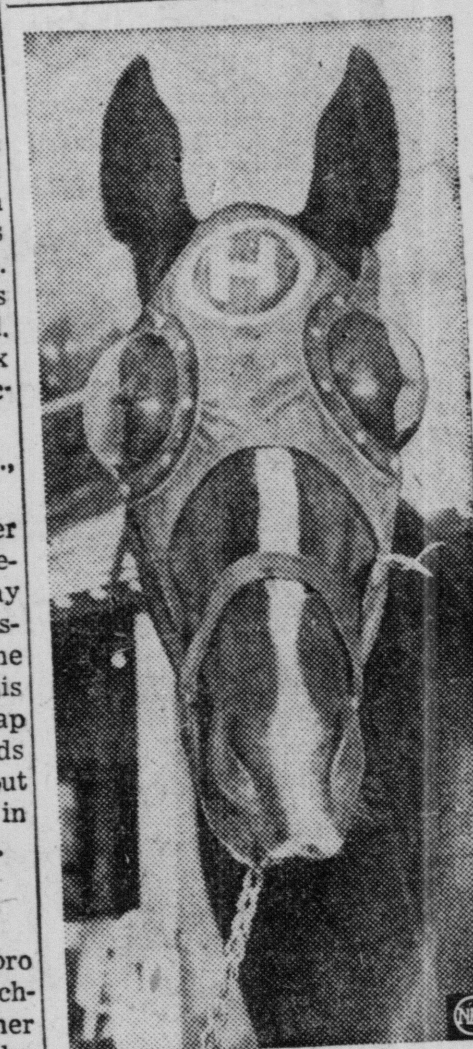

So starting tonight, it's a brand new season. Only three major teams boast unblemished record—Kentucky, Auburn and Dartmouth. During the past week, no fewer than 10 undefeateds met their match.

Kentucky has looked so good winning seven games in a row that it's hard to see how any other club is going to beat it. Both Auburn and Dartmouth probably will taste defeat along the route. Auburn, in fact, must play Kentucky in Lexington Feb. 26.

The always-interesting Big Ten race moves into high gear tonight with for games—Indiana vs. Michigan, Wisconsin vs. Iowa, Ohio State vs. Michigan State and Northwestern vs. Minnesota. Wisconsin and Illinois got the jump on the rest of the league last Saturday and that one ended in an upset, the Badgers winning 79-64.

But the Illini and Iowa still rank as the two teams to beat in the loop. If Wisconsin can get by Iowa tonight, then the Badgers also will bear watching.

LaSalle clubbed St. Louis 88-79 in the only major game played last night. All America Tom Gola scored 34 points for LaSalle, which probably will give Duquesne a tussle for the title of No. 1 independent in the nation.

Hears Victims Of Red Crimes

House Group Warns 'Peaceful Coexistence' Is Communist Lie, Sees Armed Aggression

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional committee today cautioned the world not to be deceived by Communist "peaceful coexistence" propaganda but to be prepared for "armed aggression" when Russia "is convinced the proper time has arrived."

The Kremlin's "peaceful coexistence" line, the committee said, is propaganda designed to gain time to divide and destroy free world alliances and pave the way for World War III.

To counteract the Communist menace, the committee urged that the United States "immediately launch a positive, bipartisan, political offensive against the international Communist conspiracy and in behalf of the enslaved nations."

The committee, a special nine-man House group created to study Communist aggression, based its report on 90 public hearings in the United States and abroad. Many of its 335 witnesses were eyewitnesses and actual victims of Communist crimes. The committee was headed by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis.), who was defeated in the November election.

"The time was never more opportune for the free world to initiate a bold, positive political offensive as the only course which gives reasonable hope for avoiding all-out war," the committee said.

As part of this offensive, the committee urged wider support for the United States Information Agency, operating the Voice of America, and the private Committee for Free Europe (Radio Free Europe). It also recommended Congress create a joint committee on all U.S. overseas information programs.

It suggested that the President convene an international conference of all non-Communist nations to solidify them, to sever all diplomatic recognition of Moscow-controlled governments and to terminate all commercial treaties and trade with Communist peoples.

The United States, it said, should seek to have the United Nations brand Russia as an aggressor against "all nations enslaved by communism."

Basically, the committee said, the objective of Communist aggression is to destroy civilization, to abolish the family as the basic unit of civilization, and to create a superstate sustained by terrorism, barbarity, slave labor and the destruction of religion and culture.

The committee said the Communist conspiracy is now engaged in "the process of consolidating its empire and preparing for the final showdown with the still free nations."

When the Communist leaders decide that the time is appropriate, the committee said, no pretext will be "too insignificant" to serve as an excuse for armed aggression. The committee rejected the theory that war would result if the United States took "positive and overt action against the Communist conspiracy."

OCTUPLE TROUBLE—That's what plagues teacher Harriet Hanson as the result of having four sets of twins in her first-grade class at Allen School, in Hutchinson, Kan. Not only do they look alike, but each pair's names sound alike and all eight have identical winter coats.

Small Hurricane Seen In Caribbean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A tropical storm born with the new year, diminished in intensity today but continued to move west-southwest through the Caribbean below Puerto Rico at about 10 m.p.h. A winter-time rarity, the storm was described as "very small" by the San Juan, P.R., Weather Bureau. Winds are estimated at 50 to 55 m.p.h. near the center. The storm is centered about 150 miles south-southwest of St. Croix, Virgin Islands. It is approximately 1,300 miles south of Florida.

All storm warnings in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands have been ordered lowered.

The storm, described yesterday as a baby hurricane with winds near the center estimated at 65 to 75 m.p.h., was named Alice because it was the first hurricane of 1955.

Kiwanians To See Film

McCarthy Calls 16 Witnesses Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called 16 witnesses to morning, afternoon and night hearings today in the scheduled wind-up of his search for Communists in defense plants.

The public hearings are before the Senate Investigations subcommittee. McCarthy said they are the last at which he will preside as chairman before the Democrats take over control of the Senate and all committee chairmanships.

Today's hearings are a continuation of sessions recessed Dec. 7, the day McCarthy accused President Eisenhower of "a shrinking show of weakness" toward world communism.

McCarthy said today's witnesses would be questioned concerning alleged Communist penetration of a number of defense plants in New England and Pittsburgh.

Fire Destroys Plane

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed a hangar and four airplanes and damaged a restaurant yesterday at the Smetzer Airport near Sandusky.

Fire Chief John Strouse of nearby Margaret said he was investigating. Chief Strouse, who estimated damage at $500,000, said a kerosene-saturated office was found in the restaurant building, some 150 feet from the hangar.

A hat that has everything—fashionable coverup in the front, with the smooth line over your ears, open in back for your shiny coat to show through. You can make it if you can crochet. Nice for a college gal in ear-biting climates.

Taunt a leopard with a feather...

DON'T drive fast in icy weather!

Anyone who thinks that wild leopards are any more of a hazard than icy streets has another thought coming.

Right now is a fine time to have it come, too.

Because there aren't any leopards around, that we know of, but winter is all over the place. And winter can conjure up a whole mess of ways to get a driver's neck broken, besides icy streets. Take ice on your windshield. Or blinding sleet and snow. Or the long hours of darkness that always mean more treacherous going.

Seems like everybody ought to give a second thought to his safety this winter. It's so easy:

Drive at slower speeds. Treacherous winter going often makes the safe speed far lower than the legal limit posted for dry, clear weather.

Use tire chains to increase control of your car on ice and snow, and to shorten the distance required for safe, sure stops.

Keep bright at night. Winter means less daylight, extra hours of driving in the dark. Make up for it by extra alertness at the wheel. Keep that windshield free from streaks and traffic grime. Make sure your headlights are bright and that your defroster and windshield wipers are working.

To weather this winter...

DRIVE CAREFULLY...the life you save may be your own!

Ike Works On State Of Union Message

Congress To Convene Wednesday, Transfer Control To Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Filled with hope and mindful of the elections two years away, senators and representatives headed for the capital today for the opening of the 84th Congress Wednesday.

Technically, they should be convening at noon today, since the Constitution sets Jan. 3 as the opening date. However, it permits a change for the convenience of the legislators, and the outgoing 83rd Congress decided it would be more convenient to meet Jan. 5.

Thursday, President Eisenhower will deliver before a joint session

House from Republicans to Democrats.

The last time that Capitol Hill was controlled by one political party and the White House by another was in 1947-48, under Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower is not expected to fare as badly as Truman. A coalition drawn from Democratic and Republican ranks seems likely to approve the main portions of what Eisenhower calls a "progressive moderate" program.

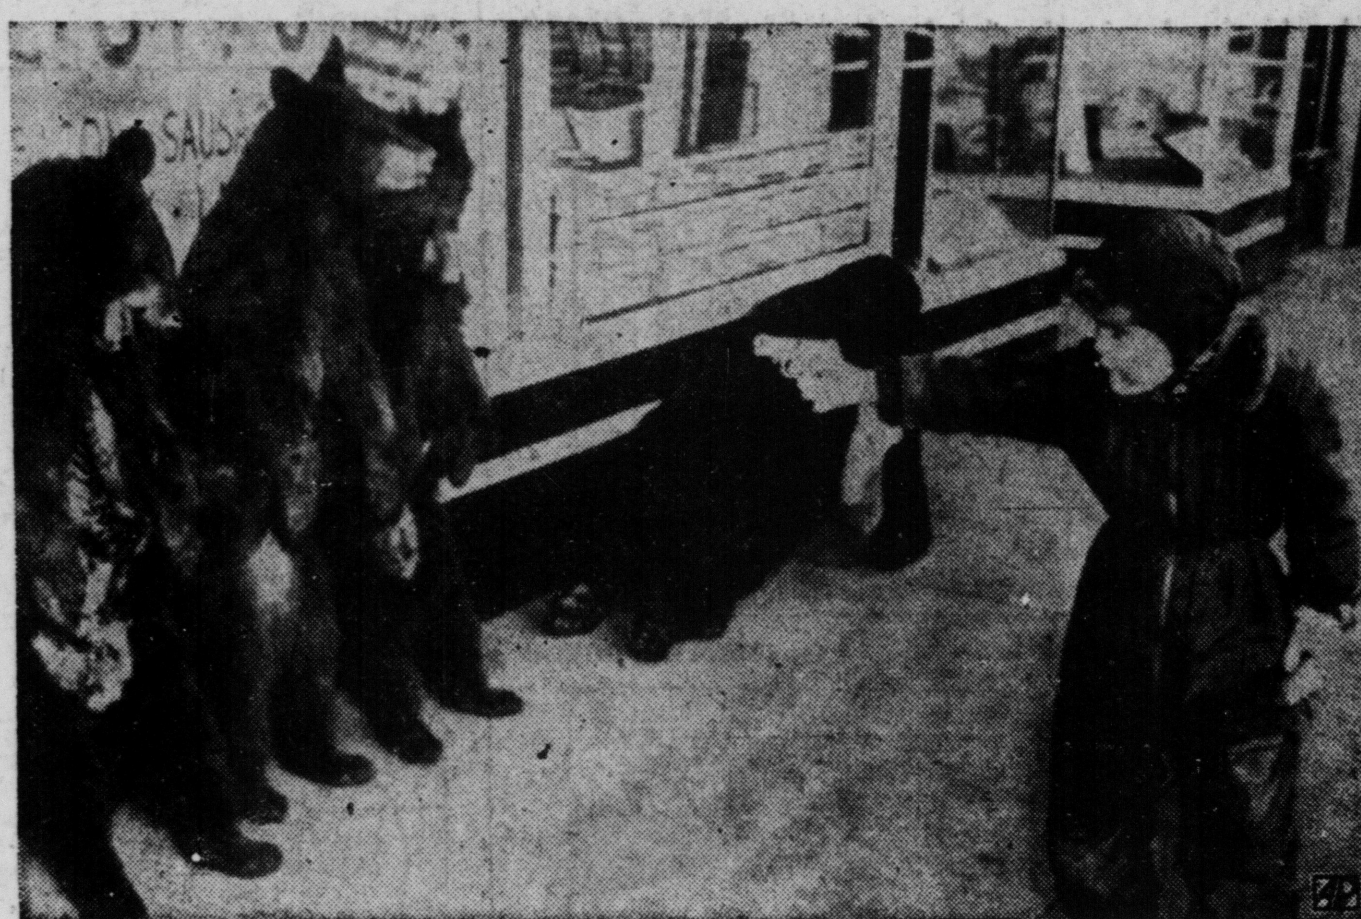

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, will replace Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts as speaker of the House. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas will become majority leader of the Senate, replacing Sen. William Knowland of California. Martin and Knowland assume minority leadership posts.

Democrats control the House by 231 to 203 seats and the Senate by 46 to 47. There is one vacancy in the House, last held by a Democrat, and one independent seat in the Senate.

Rayburn and Johnson will be designated for the top spots at party caucuses tomorrow.

The same caucuses will name major officers of the two branches for the next two years, with Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.) slated to become president pro-tem of the Senate, replacing Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH).

Although actual legislation will not get under way for a month or so—it will take that long for Congress to set up its committees—hundreds of bills will be tossed into the Senate and House hoppers on opening day.

DOWNTOWN HUNTER HAS SOME FUN—Five-year-old Johnny Stahl simply couldn't resist drawing his six-shooter when he spotted these four bears lined up in front of a Duluth, Minn., butcher shop. The animals, shot 35 miles north of Duluth by William and Bud Lehenke, Duluth, had been brought to the shop for skinning. The hides are to be made into rugs.

Presidential recommendations will set the stage of actual legislation.

Besides the three major messages called for by the Constitution or by law—the State of the Union, budget and economic — Eisenhower has announced plans for five special messages.

Two of these were announced at Augusta yesterday. One of them, on Jan. 24, will deal with health. The other, on Jan. 27, will deal with a contemplated new federal-state highway program.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the health message would recommend again that Congress appropriate 25 million dollars to underwrite expanded health insurance by private companies. Congress rejected the idea last year.

The highway program is being worked out by a committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, (ret.). He is expected to recommend federal spending of about 26 billion dollars for improvement of the federal highway system, with the states chipping in about an equivalent amount.

Other special messages, announced previously, will deal with (1) reciprocal trade, (2) pay raises for federal civilian workers and (3) pay raises and a new reserve program for the armed forces.

The annual budget will be sent to Capitol Hill Jan. 17 and the economic message three days later.

A dozen or more "big" bills are likely to provide the legislative fireworks. These will deal with agriculture, labor, taxes, reciprocal trade, military manpower, foreign members of Congress, and postal rates, among other things.

Clashes between the White House and Congress may come over pay raises, farm price supports and taxes.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Mary Ellen Beaver, 22, of Itasca, Ill., and fellow nursing student Elizabeth Middleton, 23, Madison, found a spot in Lake Mendota yesterday that wasn't frozen over and went swimming. Air temperature: 29 degrees. The girls said they had an agreement to take a dip in the lake at least once a month.

Pvt. Paul D. Sheen has returned to Fort Knox, Ky., where he is stationed following a Christmas leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheen of Greenford. Pvt. Sheen entered the service on Sept. 21. His address is Co. A, 709 Tank Bat. CCB, Third Armored Div., Fort Knox, Ky.

Crosby's Son Booked On Drunk Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One of singer Bing Crosby's twin sons, Dennis 20, appears in Municipal Court today to face a drunk charge.

Dennis was a passenger early yesterday in a car driven by Howard Norman Gilmore Jr., 21, a Stanford University student from Atherton, Calif.

Police stopped their car on Wilshire Boulevard after Patrolmen George Santman and James Whitehead said it had swerved at three pedestrians and then took off at 55 m.p.h.

Gilmore was booked on suspicion of drunk driving. The officers quoted Gilmore: "I knew those fellows I swerved at. I don't think I came close."

Two of the pedestrians also were booked on drunk charges and identified as Paul B. Mardesch, 22, Sunnyvale, Calif., and Joseph Eldon Gresham, 23, Saratoga, Calif.

Gilmore was released on $263 bail and the other three on $20 each.

Officers said young Crosby was "very polite and very cooperative."

Boy Falls From Moving Car, Isn't Badly Hurt

DALLAS (AP)—Charlie Ray Zallioser, 3, fell from a car going 50 m.p.h. yesterday but apparently was not seriously hurt. He was held for further observation at a hospital. The father told officers he was driving near here with his wife beside him and the boy alone in the back.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH
WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Week-long ceremonies beginning next Sunday will mark the dedication of a $500,000 building project at the First Methodist Church here. Bishop Hazen G. Werner of the Ohio Methodist Church will preach next Sunday morning, and Bishop Donald H. Tippett of San Francisco will speak that evening. Gov. Frank J. Lausche will appear at the church the following Tuesday night.

3rd Largest Steel Output Seen In '55

CLEVELAND (AP)—This year, 1955, will see the nation's steel mills produce the third largest steel output in history.

The prediction was made today by Steel Magazine. The publication said it expected the 1955 total to be around 100 million net tons, allowing 5 million tons either way.

The rate of steel consumption evident in the past year, said Steel, supports such an estimate. It may be influenced by several factors, including a threatened strike in the auto industry, possibility of another war or a widespread decision to rebuild inventories.

Last year, 88 million tons of steel were produced, but another 12 million tons left over from 1953 were consumed in addition to the 1954 output.

The current production record is 111,600,000 tons in 1953, which broke the old mark of 105,200,000 tons in 1951.

The price structure of steel probably will be stronger in 1955, said Steel. Supporting this theory is the prospect of increased production and the likelihood that steelworkers of the nation will get a wage boost this summer.
